

Axel KREIN

Executive director Cleansky, former vice president Research & Technology Airbus

Since February 2019, Axel Krein is the Executive Director of Clean Sky, the European Public- Private Partnership developing innovative, cutting-edge technology aimed at reducing CO<sub>2</sub>, gas emissions and noise levels produced by aircraft.

Prior to Clean Sky, Axel's career started in Airbus in Hamburg in 1992. He held various positions including heading the Cyber Security Program (September 2014-January 2019); Senior Vice President Research & Technology (2007-2014); Senior Vice President Strategic Development (2004- 2007); and Senior Vice President and Chief Information Officer (2000-2004).

Axel holds a Masters in Mechanical/Aerospace Engineering from the Technical University of Aachen and worked at the university in the field of hypersonic space transportation.